

Help Researchers Improve Treatment for Depression

UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

Different antidepressants help different people.

We are trying to understand why this happens to find the best antidepressant for each person.

Who can join?

People experiencing depression

Time commitment

Eight hours over 12 months

What will I do?

For 6 months, you will take one of two prescribed antidepressants and complete computerised games and questionnaires at home.

You can also take part in a brain recording (EEG) at the university.

Will I receive compensation?

- You will receive £50 to £125 based on your participation in different parts of the study.
- Additional bonuses
- An image of your EEG brain waves

Find out more:

relmed.ac.uk